Creating a static website having multiple webpages

There are some events going to be organized in your college for which you are supposed to develop a static website giving the details of the events. There are three categories of events i.e. Technical Events, Sports Events and Cultural Events. You need to give some details and schedule of these events on the website.

Create four web pages. One Home page and three pages for each event. The layouts of all these pages are given below.

When user clicks on any event, open the webpage of the event in New Tab.

All the pages should be linked together i.e. user should be able to navigate from any webpage to any webpage.
